VIALATTEA SKI AREAS - (1.350m – 2.800m)

The Vialattea skiing area is in Piedmont, in the North-West of Italy, and is easy to reach by car or bus, with a one hour drive from Turin airport and a little more than two hours from Milan airport.

The Vialattea is one of the world's largest ski areas with 400km of perfectly linked ski slopes, connecting some of the most beautiful Italian ski resorts: Sestriere, Sauze d'Oulx, Sansicario, Cesana, Pragelato, Claviere and the French resort of Montgenèvre. The area hosted the XX Winter Olympics Torino 2006, for which many new lifts and ski facilities were built.

The expanse and variety of this skiing area can satisfy both the most demanding skiers (thanks to the long and difficult slopes) and beginners.

The Vialattea resorts are also known for the excellent food and wines. In fact there are more than 30 on-piste bar-restaurants set in stone and wood chalets with sun terraces offering incomparable views over the surrounding mountains.

The Vialattea Skipass includes the 5 resorts of the Italian Vialattea (Sestriere, Sauze d'Oulx, Cesana-Sansicario, Claviere-Monti della Luna and the Pragelato cable car) and the 6 day skipass also includes 1 day in Montgenevre (French part of the Vialattea).
